Representatives and clients of ra Information Systems, IT solution providers in Chesterfield have been invited to the Blades vs. Watford FC match at Bramall Lane on Saturday 2nd October 2010, as ra Information Systems will be the forthcoming match ball sponsors.

ra guests will be greeted at Sheffield United Football Club by an ex-Blade legend and welcomed with a champagne reception. They will then be treated to a tour of the dressing rooms, followed by commemorative photographs that will be taken on the pitch.

The ra guests will lunch in the Platinum Suite before taking their seats in the directors' box to watch the game. One lucky ra visitor, Michael Judge Edmondson, aged 9 will also experience the thrill of appearing on the pitch to present the captains and referee with the match ball.

After the match the ra group will be involved in the selection of the sponsor's man of the match award and will be presented with the signed and mounted match ball.

ra Information Systems Managing Director Rob Dabbs commented: "We are looking forward to the match and are sure it will be enjoyed by all. It's a chance for us to let our hair down, to treat some of our valued staff and clients and to enjoy some time out of our busy schedules. After the tremendous end to last season where the Blades narrowly missed the playoffs, our expectations are high that the team can claim their rightful place back in the Premiership and we are happy to be supporting them in their quest."
